BUDGET, LAND PURCHASES AND MILLAGE ACTED ON BY COUNCIL

Final approval of a $493,196 budget, which will be financed by a 26-mill real estate tax and a $5 per capita levy, was given by the Warren borough council at its February meeting, Monday. The tax is unchanged from last year.

Council voted to buy the Halle Garage property on Crescent st., to be used for housing and servicing borough equipment. The purchase was approved by the Warren planning commission. The lot is 75 feet wide and 172 feet deep.

The planning commission also approved the purchase of eight acres from H. L. Link, adjacent to the Mulberry playground. The cost will be $10,000, but the ordinance being prepared for the March meeting probably will arrange for time payments.

Council also passed a resolution accepting from Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Imperial the conveyance of land as a public street on Public Way.

John L. Smith was named borough auditor replacing O. E. Nicholson, who resigned.

Ray J. Reed was reappointed a member of the planning commission to fill out his own term, from which he had previously resigned. A capable member of the commission, council was pleased to have him change his mind.

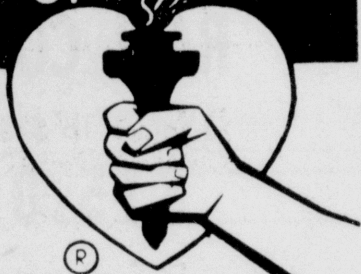

Military leaves were granted two Warren policemen, Lt. Geary Bean and Officer Bernie Winegardner.

Council learned that work on the sewage plant continues despite the weather. Ten per cent of the actual plant is completed, mostly the lower levels of the cement fill, which will flood, and 39 per cent of the Pine st. lift station is done and cannot be harmed by a flood.

Petitioners for the paving of Alexander st. were heard. They wanted action on the new petition which replaces one submitted in 1949. A petition for the paving of Madison ave. from Marion to Park st., was accepted. The 1958 paving schedule was not ready but will be discussed at the March meeting.

A BROKEN AIR HOSE caused an 88-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight train to suddenly jolt about 11:30 a. m. last Thursday and caused two cars to pile up against the PRR bridge at the Irvine tower. The train was enroute to Buffalo when the incident occurred.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

BEWARE THE FLOOD

Just so you can't say no one told you, as we heard some lament back in 1956, there is snow in those hills, and soon it will come to town. How it does this coming will determine whether you calmly watch it flow past as a fat, rushing river, or whether you will pack up your duds and head for higher ground, returning later to clean out your cellar and maybe the first floor.

There is everything present that contributes to high water. Two weeks ago we reported that the average depth of snow in the Allegheny National Forest area was 14.2 inches. In some areas it was 17.3 inches.

The water content averaged 2.4 inches, and went as high as 2.9 inches.

There has been more snow since then, and very little thawing. This week you may find the latest figures in a current news item.

Up stream from us where the really heavy flow originates we find even more snow and less means of retaining it. New York state, with its open fields and slopes, has had much more snow than we, and it will come this way before spring.

We don't believe the snow situation is quite as bad as it was in 1956 when our highest flood waters of modern record were suffered. At that time the snow was about 16 inches high, but it had a much higher water content. Almost fifty per cent, we were told.

But do not let this lull you into security. It is how the show goes off, and not how much there is, that can determine the size of the flood.

The 1956 flood was very leisurely and mild. It was caused by a gradual rise of about a tenth of an inch an hour, and it required three long days to reach its climax. Plenty of time for all to escape.

But we have seen cloudbursts raise the river six or seven feet over night. Let such a rain storm arrive when there is snow like we have today, and after a thaw has raised the river to the jumping off point, say twelve feet, and you can have more water, and have it faster, than was the case on March 8, 1956.

We hope that much of the federal flood money was well spent. Our dikes should have been well reinforced and heightened. We should be contained up to nineteen feet.

Already the hospital is filling sandbags and equipping itself with other material defenses against a flood experience.

Our rescue division of civilian defense has boats listed and is better equipped for its work than in 1956.

The public is more aware of the potential danger, and today the tendency is to be even a bit too alert, with alarm often showing when there is no danger of a flood. The 1956 experience made us jumpy.

WILL IT FLOOD?

No one can predict at this point if it will flood. Everything is there that will make one, but nature many years handles its snow and rains in a way that does not endanger most always first with the newest communities.

A series of thaws can gradually let off much of the snow. And if our rains are light and not of long duration they can help rush the snow safely to the sea.

The area covered by the rains also is important. If we have several days of heavy rain, and it it precipitates in a wide area including Jamestown, Olean, and other points north, put on your boots.

Given the same circumstances as 1956, the water might not go quite as high because there may not be as much frost in the ground and the snow water content is not as heavy.

But if we have heavier rain, and if the weather does not obligingly turn cold at the critical point, as it did on the afternoon of March 8, 1956, the losses will be great.

The losses of 1956 included a quarter of a million dollars in the East Street Sylvania plant, a couple hundred thousand at DeLuxe, two days at the United Refinery, $20,000 at Loranger Plastics, and many others. (All figures provided by the plants involved.)

In addition we were out of hospital service and hundreds were forced from homes which were damaged and infected by flood waters. The Warren Times stopped publishing while its motors were dried, and many stores were out of business. Some restaurants required much work to enable them to meet health requirements before reopening.

Add to all this the many hours lost by workmen, and the intangibles that do not show on the record book and you find that floods do not come cheap. There also are such real amounts as the thousands appropriated by the federal and state governments to make flood repairs in Warren.

Steps taken to avoid such losses, and what some day may be an even greater loss, cannot be conscientiously labeled "pork barrel". A dam, or whatever the engineers decide is our best flood preventative, is needed. Anyone who says otherwise either is very limited in his study of the subject or has a selfish reason.

BUYERS' CORNER

CAN WE RECEDE THE RECESSION THIS SPRING?

Some of the smart operators in heavy industry still believe they can stem the downward bend of the business arrow this spring or by summer. But we suspect they missed their guess for 1958.

Unemployment has reached a point where it is beginning to pinch the economy. And we see nothing directly ahead that will change it. In fact, many workmen continue on payrolls only because their plants want to keep them in funds. This cannot go on for many more months without a reduction in hours or a complete lay-off.

The real barometer today is the car industry. It is the one which really guessed wrong, or pretended to. It built longer, lower, and more juke-boxed cars. The public is buying foreign makes and the new Rambler.

The car industry had figured this was a year for loans to run out and for people to buy cars. But with work not very promising, the car owners are hanging onto their old models and waiting to see what is in store for them at the shop.

The car industry probably won't make much over five million cars this year, if that, and it looks as though it wouldn't sell them.

Washington does a little talking but very little doing of a positive nature. The loosening of money credits is helpful to those who want loans, but any major effect on unemployment will be very long range. The expansion of plants has dropped to a low level, and even if it were to pick up, the immediate effect on the economy would be slight.

No Republican administration has shown a willingness to spend much money to help recessions. This one is not proving to be an exception. Though many public projects are ready for the order, Washington sits on its hands. By the time enough of them could get into production so that many men would be given jobs we probably would already have worked out of the current slump.

This, as we predicted months ago, will happen in the fall. The first sign will come from the tooling industry. If the car and home appliance makers decide to really go after business, major changes will be effected. Signs of this first will come from the tool makers.

An aspect of this tooling business that now is receiving much attention is the use of epoxy resin plastic. Though it has not been perfected to the point where dies made from it will last as long as steel, it can be used where production is in smaller quantities. Cost of tooling is reduced as much as sixty per cent.

Once such plastic tooling is made practical for mass production you may see radical changes in design every year. Our wonder is, can the public afford having its cars and other comforts out-dated every year.

And can the nation? How about material waste?

The next step may be to use the plastic in the product, with big steel, now running at fifty per cent of capacity, shuddering at the thought. However, don't feel bad for the steel stockholders. When plastic moves in, they will have a financial hand in it.

It seems to shape up in a picture of tomorrow, when the farmer will grow the material from which your refrigerator, car, radio, television set, stove, and appliances are made, and also the material which will make them.

***

But the lady with the budget to balance is concerned with today, next month, and the year ahead. If it is true that an effort was made to tighten up the economy, eat up inventory, and also place labor in a poor bargaining position, we still may have a wait coming. It looks as though Washington leaders may be losing some of their nerve in this little game, if such a game exists, but their frantic efforts and wringing of hands will not pay the grocery bill.

Talk of plans to help the unemployed does not provide cash for the lady of the house. Some one either wasn't ready for such an emergency, or didn't want to be.

We look for some possibly rough times in the spring and summer. Labor is demanding and industry is pretending to be hurt, though it fails to reduce prices even in the face of low demand.

With Reuther asking for a share in the profits, a major change in our economy and the relationship between capital and labor may be taking its first steps. The taking won't be easy and it will remain for the usual cushions to keep a real depression away.

Meanwhile, all will be eyeing 1959, and the machines will be whirling by fall to prepare for that year. With promising labor terms, dies being made, and defense orders starting to roll, the market may be bulling before the year is over, even though the average family check may not be on the fat side.

Meanwhile, we have the problem of over five million unemployed, steel at half production, cars not selling, tools not being made, and such things as paper containers, considered by many to be the key to economic conditions, doing no more than 87 per cent of capacity, as compared with the 96 per cent of January, 1957.

Each in his own business life and in his job must figure the immediate future accordingly. Our guess is that we still have a few months of comparatively rough traveling ahead, but no major depression is in the making. We will boom next fall.

OUR INCOME TAX SIEVE:

Loopholes Help A Favored Few

By Jack Steele
Scripps-Howard Staff Writer

WASHINGTON. -- The House Ways and Means Committee last August reported out H. R. 7628 -- a tax bill. The vote was 12 to 10.

This action made no headlines. The bill's tongue-twisting title -- "Extension of Involuntary Conversion Tax Treatment to Certain Dispositions under the Anti-Trust Laws" -- helps explain why.

But some committee members gave the measure a shorter, more understandable title. They called it "the Hilton Hotels bill."

It is singled out here as only one of many possible examples of "special interest" tax bills.

If it clears Congress this year, H. R. 7628 will exempt the Hilton Hotels Corp. from capital gains taxes on profits from the sale of several hotels the government forced the corporation to sell through a civil anti-trust action.

The Hilton Hotels may claim they should not be taxed on profits the government forced them to make. They may contend that, to realize the tax savings provided in the bill, they would have to reinvest these profits in other hotels.

But the proposed bill, in effect, would give the nation's largest hotel chain a tax reward for failing to comply with the anti-trust laws. And it might encourage others to violate these laws to get similar tax benefits.

The Justice Department opposed the bill on grounds that it would weaken enforcement of the anti-trust laws. The Treasury fought it as giving undeserved "special tax relief."

But the committee approved it behind a "veil of secrecy" which is thrown over much of the special tax legislation acted upon by Congress.

No hearings were held on the bill. The majority report fails to identify the chief beneficiary. Its sponsor, Rep. Noah H. Mason (R., Ill.), would only say that he had introduced it at the behest of an unnamed lawyer. Logrolling helped push the bill through the committee.

Each year this tax-writing committee devotes a few days to what it calls "members' bills." By tradition, each of the 25 members gets one pet bill approved. This one happened to be Mason's.

Like many other special interest tax bills, H. R. 7628 masqueraded as a "technical revision" of the Revenue Code too complex for most people to understand.

And, also like many others, it may drive a loophole in the tax laws through which many companies which violate the anti-trust laws can escape, along with millions of dollars in taxes.

The Justice Department warned the committee that this little bill might give big tax breaks to many other firms, among them E. I. du Pont de Nemours, Sun Oil, Continental Can, Western Electric, Minute Maid, General Shoe, RCA and Procter & Gamble.

A flood of similar bills has poured into Congressional hoppers in the last few years. Some would benefit whole industries. Others propose special tax relief for groups of taxpayers -- the aged, the self-employed, working mothers, business executives.

Many eventually get enacted. Influential members of the Senate Finance Committee often succeed in tacking them on as riders to other tax measures.

Lobbyists, pressure groups and constituents who are big campaign givers provide most of the steam behind these bills. But the identities of these sponsors and beneficiaries seldom are revealed. Even the Treasury often can't or won't identify them.

Pushing such bills through Congress has become a major part of the work of Washington's growing army of tax lawyers. This cynical comment is credited to one of them: "If you lose a tax case in the courts, you can always win it in Congress." Not always, but all too often.

These bills have become as important to the game of tax avoidance as the forward pass to football. When they succeed, they score big. And the fee for the tax lawyer who lobs the bill to Congress sometimes runs into six figures.

The Treasury usually -- but not always -- opposes such bills if they cut deeply into tax revenues. Congressmen supposedly represent all taxpayers, who must pay higher taxes to make up any revenues lost by these special interest bills. But they frequently line up with the lobbyists.

Worst of all, perhaps, these measures quickly become embedded in the tax structure. Only when they open such huge loopholes that public scandals threaten are they repealed.

The 1954 revision of the Revenue Code provides many examples of such special tax benefits. One of the aims of the new Code was to close loopholes, and it did seal off about 50 of them. But it opened hundreds of new ones -- some unintentionally.

One of the most dramatic was closed quickly. It was supposed to help a few companies by letting them charge off estimated future expenses against current taxes. Tax lawyers quickly saw the chance this offered for all businesses to save taxes. Congress and the Treasury belatedly awoke to the possibility that this little loophole might cost the government -- and other taxpayers -- $2 billion in revenues.

Last year the Ways and Means Committee made a heroic effort to close a few of the "unintended benefits" granted by the 1954 Code. The resulting Mills bill won committee approval, but still must clear the House and Senate.

One loophole the Mills bill would close is the $5 a day tax exemption for "subsistence allowances" for state and local police voted in 1954. At the time it would have given special tax relief denied to other taxpayers to a few police who received such allowances. Congress voted it in a burst of sympathy for "underpaid cops."

But many states and cities began to designate $5 a day of the regular pay of their police as "subsistence allowances." Some even gave police status to watchmen and guards so they could claim the same exemption.

The committee found that this little "tax break" was going to cost the government -- and other taxpayers -- $50 million a year.

The Mills bill doesn't touch some of the more glaring loopholes in the 1954 code. Wealthy taxpayers have taken advantage of these complex "unintended benefits" -- including such devices as Canadian investment funds, multiple trusts and so-called "in-oil" payments -- to avoid millions of dollars in taxes.

And at least one "special benefit" provision sneaked into the Mills bill. The "Singer Sewing Machine" provision would permit U. S. companies which do business abroad to spread the credits they receive for taxes paid to foreign governments over an eight-year period. It would save the Singer Sewing Machine Co. and a few other firms about $5 million a year in U. S. taxes.

Another little bill which sped through Congress in 1956 illustrates how deeply ingrained the philosophy of special interest tax legislation has become. This private bill "for the relief of the Cannon Foundation" slipped through unnoticed in the closing days of the session.

Rep. Clarence Cannon (D., Mo.), powerful chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, set up the foundation in 1950 to channel his gifts to churches and other charities.

Cannon got the dean of a law school to draw up the foundation's charter for him. But the tax laws covering foundations are so complex that even the dean goofed.

The Revenue Service held that the foundation's charter did not meet the requirements for tax exemption. So it disallowed Cannon's deductions of his gifts and upped his tax assessment.

But the little bill to exempt Cannon's foundation from the tax laws sailed through Congress in just four days. And it might have escaped notice had not T. Coleman Andrews, then Internal Revenue Commissioner, been angry at Cannon for his refusal to give the Revenue Service more money to enforce the tax laws.

Andrews mentioned the bill in a magazine article. He wrote: "It came as near to making suckers out of all the rest of us as any piece of tax legislation Congress ever enacted."

Two Law-makers Fear Tax System Collapse

WASHINGTON. -- Some members of Congress are aware of the growing danger that our income tax system will collapse as a result of the special benefits, preferences and loopholes which have made a sieve of the Revenue Code.

Here are typical statements by two top Congressional tax policy-makers:

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D., Ark.), new chairman of the Ways and Means Committee:

"We can no longer afford to defer serious, large-scale efforts to revise our Federal tax system."

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (Mo.), a high-ranking GOP member of the same committee:

"I do not believe we can continue much longer under our present tax structure. It is eroding faster every day."

ASIDES

ANYBODY DIFFER?

According to the Ford Motor Company, it sold more cars in Warren county than any other make in 1957. It quotes registration figures released by R. L. Polk and Company, which is described as the industry's statistic gathering agency.

Ford registered 427 cars in the county last year, compared with the 380 of its closest competitor. And that, we presume, is Chevrolet.

WORLD PORT

Erie says it will have its world port ready for operation when the St. Lawrence Seaway opens in 1959. The Erie port, for which a large freight pier has been purchased and will be modernized, will be ready April 1 of that year.

Forty truck lines will lead to the pier, which is 100 by 800 feet in size. The Pennsylvania railroad also serves the pier.

Some of the two million dollars Pennsylvania is spending on harbor development will go into the improvements which include a 27-foot water dockside where both rail and truck carriers can receive and discharge cargo.

And so a world port moves within sixty-five miles of our area.

READY FOR POOL

A small model of the new Warren area high school was seen at the meeting of the joint committee this week. It is a mobile model that can be moved about to allow various arrangements.

The major change is the reversal of the cafeteria and the gymnasium. This allows for expansion of both units, and also places the gymnasium on the side of the building which will receive the rays of the afternoon and evening sun. Thus we now are ready to build a combination indoor and outdoor swimming pool in conjunction with the school. Now, we can move.

progress of our defense development, why are some pushing Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin as a Republican candidate for the Pennsylvania governorship? We see little the present army chief of research and development can do for his nation as the governor of a state.

He should enter private industry where it is directly related to defense work, or, if he aspires to public office, run for senator and serve in Washington where he should have some real value on the right committees.

PREACH WITHOUT PRACTICE

We read that Vice President Nixon suggests Russia and the United States work together on space development. We favor the idea, but it sounds strange coming from an administration which doesn't have its own services working together in the space field.

TOO MANY BEDS

Last week we quoted a Dixie Cup publicity plug which mentioned that the national average of hospital beds is 9.5 per thousand people. We have learned that this is misleading. It is not a true picture of the general hospital bed figure, and the generals are the ones which handle the bulk of our sick.

The figure quoted included all hospitals, mental, veteran, and private. The actual general hospital average is 3.4 beds per every thousand of our population. In the south it droops as low as 1.5.

In Warren we have 144 beds, including the nursery. And we are about to add 24 more. Which will be about 4 per thousand for Warren County.

In Brief

SUB-ZERO TEMPERATURES, as low as 18 degrees below in some sectors, struck the Warren area last night and this morning.

A FLASH FIRE at the new cracker unit of the United Refining Co. broke out at 1:30 a. m. today (Thursday), but was quickly brought under control.

No one was injured and damage was minor.

THE WATER CONTENT of the snow in our surrounding hills has increased during the past few days. In a reading on January 28 the snow averaged 14.2 inches in depth and had an average water content of 2.4 inches. By February 7 this depth of snow average had changed to 13.8 inches, but the water content was up to 2.8 inches.

The lowering of the snow depth was due to compaction, despite additional snow fall. The heaviest snow is in the northern portions where it runs as deep as 17.4 inches with 3.4 inches of water. In the southern portion, near the Tionesta creek, it is down to 10.2 inches with a water content of 2.1 inches.

SHORT ON BONDS was Warren county last year. It bought only 82 per cent of its share, which was $1,263,000. Warren county bought $1,041,606 worth.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING conditions in the area have apparently made drivers much more cautious.

Until 1:13 p.m. Wednesday Borough police had been enjoying nearly two accident-free weeks. At this time Charles Punsky, 20 Linwood st., pulled his truck away from the curb in front of the Warren Super Market on Pennsylvania ave., E., and struck a passing auto operated by Charles M. Darrow, Jamestown, N.Y. Approximately $100 damage was caused to the car only.

The State Police accident report for the past week included only a minor mishap at the main intersection in Russell where Glenn Dase, R. D. 2, Akeley, backed his highway truck into the front end of a county commissioner's auto driven by Harold Jordan, Russell.

BUSINESS CHANGE. George Pappas, well-known Warren restaurant man for the past 33 years, has purchased the Chalet in North Warren from Theodore Prodromou.

Sale of a downtown restaurant may be announced the end of this month.

BY REPORT AND ORDER the Federal Communications Commission has amended its television table of assignments and substituted Channel 80 for Channel 70 in Bradford, effective March 7. This change will make Channel 70 available for TV translator service in the North Warren area.

The new structures (a 60 by 100-foot canning and warehouse section and a 24 by 50-foot compounding plant) will be located to the rear of the company's present warehouse and canning spaces located on the three-lane at North Warren.

STATE POLICE and the sheriff's department are continuing their investigation of a burglary that took place at the Walter Ludwick lumber firm in the Scandia area the first of the month. About $200 worth of batteries and tools were stolen from a work shed.

HONOR STUDENTS. It was reported that nine Warren high school students were on the distinguished honor roll and 113 on the honor roll at the close of the third six-weeks grading period.

JT. COMMITTEE CONSIDERS $942,096 BUDGET, REVIEWS BUILDING PLANS

A budget of $942,096 for 1958-59 was given tentative approval by the joint committee Monday night and will be presented to the Warren Area Joint School Board at a March 10th session. The current school year budget is $676,113.50.

The new proposed budget includes $56,000 for costs of architectural fees and land costs for the new high school this year, as well as $193,000 for rental on the new building.

Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

REPRESENTING the First Presbyterian Church of Warren at the Eastern Area meeting of the National Council of Presbyterian Men Friday through Sunday will be Robert R. Whitehill and James N. Francis.

$26,300 is the campaign goal of the Warren County chapter of the American Red Cross for 1958, according to drive chairman Wendell F. Peterson.

It was also pointed out in the announcement that the American Red Cross is launching a long-range, bootstrap operation to rebuild its disaster reserve. The organization spent about $51 million in the two years between July 1, 1955, and June 30, 1957, and this does not include the $3 million used to help victims of Hurricane Audrey that struck last June.

COLLEGE CHATTER. Among new students enrolled at Hartwick College is James A. Eberly, of 604 Market st., Warren, a science major.

Five area students who were named to the Dean's list at Thiel College in Greenville for attaining a minimum scholarship quotient of 3.250 for the semester were Elizabeth DeLong, freshman; Robert Olson, sophomore; Mary Jane Burgett, junior; Bruce Kuhre and Janet Peterson, seniors.

"When an athlete can read his own newspaper clippings, higher education hasn't entirely failed."—Morrie Gallent.

A first draft of the new high school was presented at the joint committee meeting for review and the architect will now have the preliminary plans complete for presentation at the joint board session next month.

It was also decided to use a local authority for the new high school building.

A letter received from the state revealed that the room schedule planned is for only 1147 students rather than the 1200 figure considered by the local board. Therefore, the committee Monday approved adding three more rooms to the new school (a large classroom, a music room, and a home ec room). This will make a room schedule for 1222 students.

The committee approved the following bills for payment: $46,299.77, general bills; $238.13, special services; $48 recreational services; $95, substitute teachers; $913.53, janitors' overtime; $1,232.91, orders written for two months; and $7, 190.43, cafeteria bills.

It was agreed to purchase $1500 in books for the Beaty library and add $12,000 to the text book budget.

A report was heard on the two special advance math groups at Beaty. A ninth grade geometry class is being planned for next year along with two algebra classes for eighth graders.

There will be a summer typing class for high school students if the response is great enough; the driver education program is to continue the remainder of the school year and through the summer; because of the large junior enrollment next fall, some of these students will take driver ed through the summer months; summer band is to be conducted.

The committee learned that William Burkhart, president of Lever Brothers and a former graduate of Warren high school, had accepted the invitation to speak at the June 4th commencement exercises.

The snow removal problem was discussed and the borough council will be asked what they would charge to keep all buildings in the borough clear.

Attendance average for the fourth marking period and a membership of 3773 was 94 per cent, average; teachers with masters degrees will receive reimbursement for the additional credits they take; possible extension courses and continuation of evening classes were approved.

Ike Must Fight Or Lose

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON. -- The broad outlines of President Eisenhower's plan to make over the Department of Defense in order to get a greater degree of unity and cut down inter-service squabbling have now taken form and are being given serious consideration by the top-level committee named by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy to make recommendations to the President.

While that committee is not bound by the President's thinking, the main points of the Eisenhower outline coincide with the basic views of committee members.

Those close to the President put great stress on the importance of his succeeding in getting Congress to approve a revamping of the defense setup. The President is told that while the opposition will be tough, he can have his way if he is willing to carry his case to the people. He has been most reluctant to do this in the past but now some of his warmest admirers are saying that if he fails in an area where he has specialized knowledge and long experience his reputation in the Presidency will suffer a perhaps fatal blow.

The three principal points that have figured in the President's discussion of a new try for unification are as follows:

1. General officers of the Army and the Air Force and flag officers of the Navy would in the future be officers of the United States Armed Forces rather than of a particular service. They might continue to wear a brown or a blue uniform but, after achieving the rank of general or admiral, they would cease to have a service connection.

In arguing the need for this change the President points to the practice prevailing when he was a young officer of having a chief of infantry, a chief of cavalry, a chief of artillery all within the Army. The young officer was beholden to the chief of his branch rather than to the commander of the battalion or the corps in which he served, and the commanders were therefore seriously handicapped in getting unity of action. As Chief of Staff of the Army General George C. Marshall abolished the separate chiefs, and Eisenhower regards the detachment of flag and general officers from their services as a next step.

2. The units in a unified command are to be made organic units. The commander of a unit in which all three services may be serving would have full responsibility for promotions, demotions, trial by court-martial and every other detail of service existence. Today the Army officer may be serving under a Navy commander in a unified unit but he still looks to the Army for advancement.

The key word the President uses is organic. Cited as a horrendous example of a unified command that is not organic is the Continental Air Defense Command, known as CONAD, at Colorado Springs, Colo. The organization chart of CONAD, according to those who have taken part in the White House discussions, is a crazy quilt that splits authority a dozen ways.

3. The administrative control of the Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is to be greatly strengthened in the most drastic change advanced in the White House talks. The Joint Chiefs of Staff would have a separate planning staff independent of the services, and strategic plans would both originate and end with this staff. With such a staff the JCS chairman would bear the burden and accept the consequences in a kind of partnership with the Secretary of Defense.

Refusal To House Negro
Results In Legal Action

Legal action to forbid a Warren County motel from refusing accommodations to Negroes because of their race is being instituted today by the Rev. Leon Sullivan, a Negro Baptist minister from Philadelphia. The action, brought with the help of the American Civil Liberties Union, is in the form of a complaint asking for an injunction against the Warren Motel, near Warren, Pennsylvania.

According to the complaint, the motel management last summer refused to make a reservation for Sullivan when it learned he was a Negro. Sullivan came to Warren on July 5 to speak at the vesper service of the Jaycee Mid-Summer Mardi Gras celebration on July 5.

Before his arrival, the Rev. G. Forrest Sparks of Warren attempted to reserve a room for him at the Warren Motel by telephone. The Motel management, according to Sparks, was willing to make the reservation until Sparks told them that Sullivan was a Negro. They then stated they could not accommodate him.

The complaint in equity is being filed in the Warren county court of common pleas by local attorneys, John H. Stewart and David W. Swanson, who agreed to take the case at the request of the American Civil Liberties Union of Pennsylvania. The action is being brought under the Pennsylvania Public Accommodations Act of 1939, which forbids the proprietors of any place of public accommodation from denying accommodation to any person "on account of race, creed, or color".

The law provides for a fine up to $100.00, or up to 90 days imprisonment, or both. However, Sullivan is not seeking to invoke the criminal penalties provided by the law. Instead, he is asking the courts to forbid further discrimination against himself or other Negroes. If the injunction is granted, the Motel would then be obligated to abide by the law or be guilty of contempt of court.

The American Civil Liberties Union, along with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has long been interested in enforcement of the Act throughout Pennsylvania. The two organizations won an injunction against the Boulevard Pools, a large privately-owned swimming pool in Philadelphia, in 1954. This action, which was fought up to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, established that the Accommodations Act is enforceable through injunction, as well as by criminal prosecution.

Leon Sullivan is Pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, one of the largest churches in Philadelphia. He is particularly well-known for his work to combat juvenile delinquency, and in 1956 he was voted by the Jaycees one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of the nation.

A RED CROSS standard first aid training course was offered fifteen employees of the Allegheny National Forest at local Red Cross headquarters last week.

Among those in attendance from Sheffield, Bradford, Ridgway, Marienville and the Warren officer were (l. to r.) standing--Mark DeBerti, Ronald Pyles, Fred Haumesser, Richard McClure, Don Kinander, Paul Shogren, Jean DeMarrais and George Senotti; kneeling--qualified instructor Roy A. "Pinky" Marker, Robert Lockhart and Alan Duhnkrack; prone--Robert Phillips and Bill Richards.

Possession of an up-to-date first aid card is a must with all Forest Service personnel who supervise other employees.

FCC Investigation Sorry Snafu

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON. -- Not even the Pentagon has produced a snafu equal to the one in which the inquiry into the Federal regulatory agencies is now trapped.

It is a situation in which nobody has been wise, few have been brave and some are corrupt while practically everybody involved has been impetuous and foolish.

The inquiry is needed and is potentially one of the most important ever held here. It began at a level equal to its high mission; it rests today in a slough of petty dissension, backbiting and sordid personalities.

The subcommittee decided it did not like the methods of its counsel, but instead of firing him forthrightly, it began a calculated campaign to harass and discredit him so he would resign. It has allowed witnesses who were themselves under fire to abuse him; at one point a Republican member of the committee suggested counsel be made to take the witness chair and be put under oath.

Counsel Bernard Schwartz has fought back with more courage than subtlety. He leaked to newspapers the damaging evidence he felt subcommittee members wanted to suppress; he is now demanding that he get a public hearing on the charges made against him.

At one point the subcommittee, though it is itself on trial in the court of public opinion, threatened to fire Schwartz after all. Then it belatedly realized that it would be left under a cloud of suspicion that it wanted to cover up misdoing and voted to retain him.

All this incredible stupidity has established a record of still another kind. A small group of Senators who have tried vainly to get some such inquiry started in their chamber are poised to take the issue to the Senate floor if the House subcommittee tries to sweep it under the rug.

The truth is that so much blood has now been drawn that the inquiry must go on. Despite the efforts of some subcommittee members to hinder him, Schwartz has managed to suggest indelibly that very grave corruption among the regulatory agencies does exist. The press is aroused and the issue is ready-made for all present and potential antagonists of the Congressmen involved.

Some people already have been hurt and more certainly will be. But there is no top-secret-security label available to pigeonhole the matter.

Of course, efforts will be made to do so. Those who have misused the agencies to win economic benefits for themselves will employ that economic power to stop the unfolding of the story. Members of Congress who allowed themselves to be persuaded to exert pressure on the commissions have no taste for public hearings about it.

The commissioners themselves, if the first few witnesses are any test, do not enjoy the witness stand. Some of them have resisted the most routine inquiries about their conduct of their offices.

Political secrets are hard to keep, however, and few politicians care to face their constituents in an election year with the aura of one surrounding them. How to get the agency inquiry back on the road and keep it there is the question before House leaders of both parties.

CRACKING DOWN

The Beaty Junior high school faculty has reached the opinion that enough time is being spent by students on homework and the completion of assignments; and that many students are turning in papers done in a slipshod manner -- some only half-completed and others not at all.

As a result of the situation the following policy has been adopted: "When an assignment is made the student is naturally expected to complete the assignment and turn it in on time. The students are asked to remain after school when an assignment is not complete or not turned in."

The move to eliminate the problem has been explained in an open letter to parents and by work to the students.

The letter from principal Henry Powell states in part, "Because the child's first and most important responsibility at this age level is as a student, most excuses for not having the work finished will not be accepted. Moreover, excuses for not remaining after school will be few and far between. Dentist appointments, music lessons, paper routes, jobs, etc., are secondary to the child's responsibility as a student, and will not be accepted excuses."

"Education must be learned and re-learned," the principal states. "During these times of prosperity many things are provided by mother and dad, but education is not one of these things. It doesn't grow on trees. It must be earned and re-earned."

About 45 per cent of the Beaty student body rides buses. These pupils will be notified one day in advance to allow time for other transportation arrangements to be made.

I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and so live that the place will be proud of him.

ADDITIONS & SUBTRACTIONS

The WALTER WINCHELL FILE will be dropped by its sponsors, the Revlon Company, on March 21. No replacement has yet been named. CBS is flashing the stop signal on three Sunday public affairs sustaining programs. They are Eric Sevareid's "World News Roundup", "Let's Take a Trip" and "U. N. In Action." CBS indicates another news program will be added and definitely is scheduling "The Last Word" to replace Sevareid, March 2 in the 6-6:30 time slot. "UN," is being replaced as the General Assembly of the United Nations is not now in session. "Eye on New York" will be the replacement. "Let's Take A Trip", a travelogue type of show for youngsters, received the axe and unfortunately it doesn't look as though the network is interested in adding a much-needed children's program in its stead.

THE ARLENE FRANCIS SHOW concludes its current NBC-TV schedule on Friday, February 21. The Monday-through-Friday time spot (10-10:30 a. m.) will be taken by a new musical guessing game, "Dough-Re-Mi", beginning Monday, February 24.

LUCKY DOLLAR is the name of a quiz show, based on the wordgame "Ghost" which CBS is considering as a replacement for Garry Moore's morning television program. And thus network competition continues.

VOICE OF FIRESTONE has been rumored on the "outgoing tide", however, the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company denies that it is making plans to cancel the concert series which has been heard by the public for thirty years, via radio and television. The current contract expires June 2.

SALLY, the comedy series on Sunday evening which has taken Joan Caulfield and Marion Lorne to various parts of the world, will have a format change starting Sunday. A department store will be the scene of misadventures in the new series which adds to the cast Johnny Desmond, Gale Gordon and Arte Johnson.

YOUR HIT PARADE, Saturday p. m. NBC show, will begin a series of eight mystery tune contests starting February 22. Held on alternate weeks, the contests will continue through May 31. A total of 1,344 prizes worth $200,000 will be given away, all in an effort to boost sales of Hit Parade cigarettes.

OSCAR & EMMY

OSCAR AWARDS will be made March 26, NBC-TV covering the ceremonies. An impressive list of top names in the motion picture world has been named to participate in the event.

EMMY AWARDS, top recognition for the television industry, will be carried by NBC-TV on April 15. This is the tenth year for Emmy.

TRY THIS ONE

If you own a frequency modulation radio set you can pick up signals from the U. S. satellite "Explorer", so says the CBS radio technical operations department. The strange whining sounds can be heard on FM sets only, at 108 and 108.3 megacycles, at the times when the baby moon crosses the American continent. Consult your newspapers for published schedules of the times when the satellite comes nearest this area.

REDSKIN SAGA

The "shores of Gitchee-Goomee" will lap across your tv screen next fall when NBC presents a musical play about Hiawatha. The announced date is October 12 from 6:30 to 7:30. The fact that this date is also Columbus Day means nothing; the show is so scheduled to coincide with the opening of a new 1-cent sale by sponsors of the play, the Rexall Drug Company.

A search is being made for performers for the two lead roles, Hiawatha and his Indian maiden, Minnehaha. A production budget of $250,000 has been quoted.

DIAL SPINNERS

UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO ROUNDTABLE will discuss "Compulsory Unionism or the Open Shop?" at 7 p. m. Saturday on Channel 4.

"DAVID HARUM", starring Will Rogers, will be presented on Fifty Film Festival, also via Channel 4, at 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

20TH CENTURY, CBS Sunday at 6:30 p. m., will bring the dramatic Kefauver hearings of seven years ago in "Crime and the Committee". RIGOLETTO, Verdi's popular opera, will be performed Sunday afternoon at 2:00 on the NBC network. Stars include Igor Gorin, Dorothy Coulter, Kirk Oreste and Joshua Hecht, members of the NBC Opera Company.

WIDE WIDE WORLD will tell the story of Americans in their middle years in a 90-minute program Sunday afternoon at 4:00. A family of six, living in St. Louis, will be the central characters in "The House in Webster Groves". OUTLOOK at 6:30 p. m. Sunday on NBC-TV will bring the story of Venezuela's adjustment after eight years of dictatorship.

MEET THE PRESS will have its panel of newspapermen interviewing James H. Smith, Jr., head of the U. S. foreign aid program, at 6:00 Sunday evening on NBC-TV.

JERRY LEWIS SHOW will present as guests Betty Grable and Sophie Tucker in its NBC telecast Tuesday night, February 18, at 8-9 p. m.

THE NIGHTINGALE, a Shirley Temple Notebook production, will be seen on NBC-TV as a special for Wednesday, February 19.

VICTOR BERGE, pianist-comedian, will present an hour-long show on CBS-TV at 9 p. m. Wednesday night, February 19.

GE THEATRE will have Claudette Colbert playing the lead in a two-part drama, "The Last Town Car", to be seen February 16 and 23.

RING, RINK & COURT

BOXING - Stefan Redl of Passaic, N. J., clashes with Gale Kerwin of Long Island, N. Y. in a 10-round welterweight bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night. NBC-TV, 10 p. m.

BASKETBALL - NBA "Game of the Week" on NBC-TV at 2 p. m. Saturday will be between the league-leading Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors on the latter's home court.

RACING - The $25,000 added Everglade Stakes, a prep race for the 3-year olds aiming at the rich Flamingo, will be covered by NBC-TV and Radio on the Racing From Hialeah Series at 4:30-5 p. m. Saturday.

SURVIVAL - MAJOR CONCERN OF FUTURE HYDROGEN WAR

By Lewis Crippen

An entirely new concept of the dangers of hydrogen warfare developed following the 1954 Pacific bomb tests. Previous belief that only the immediate area of a blast would be effected was quickly discarded when news leaked out that Japanese fishermen were strangely ill from the aftermath of the bomb's explosion.

The tests proved that specks of dust became radioactive and are carried great distances bringing death to all living creatures in their path. More such dust develops from a ground blast than an air blast and, in case of war, it would be expected the enemy would attempt to cause the greatest amount of damage. The direction and speed of wind, up to 80,000 ft., determine the area to be covered by lethal doses. Lack of protection would leave individuals at the mercy of the fallout.

The Pacific tests also proved that protection against fallout can be achieved. The Civil Defense began immediately to inform the public of proper steps each household should take.

A bomb shelter, underground at least three feet, is the best protection as radiation will be reduced to 1/5000 of the rate above ground. To be safe from the effects of radiation you would have to stay in the shelter at least 2 or 3 days. The local Civil Defense Radiological Division will check the quantity of radiation and advise by "conelrad" when it is safe to venture outside. Fortunately, the radiation "decays" with time but the closer to the center of the blast the longer time of quarantine will be required.

Lack of the best advance preparations does not mean that nothing can be done when the sirens blow. Seek some kind of shelter -- basements are better than ground floors, ground floors are better than second floors, fox holes with branches or ground covering are pretty good, even run to a barn, under trees or anything -- don't stay in the open. Obviously, the better your plans now, the better your chances of survival if the blast does come.

The C. D. book advises, "The best way to avoid the effects of a bomb is to be somewhere else when it goes off". Foolish advice, of course, but it underlines the needs for good evacuation plans. With a few hours notice (residual fallout is carried to the extremes of the atmosphere before falling back to earth) and the direction of prevailing winds determined at different altitudes, many thousands of persons may be moved to less dangerous areas.

Whether you will be evacuated or seek your own shelter, an emergency pack containing blankets, tightly closed containers of food and water, clothing, first aid kit, battery radio, flashlight with extra batteries, medicine and money, should be ready at all times. Keep your car in good running order and at least half full of gas. The pack should be light if you expect to use commercial transportation as there will undoubtedly be some walking between stations.

Before you relax and say that you are secure in rural Warren County, remember we could be seriously effected by a hydrogen blast in Erie, Cleveland, or even as far away as Detroit. Special booklets are available at Civil Defense Headquarters located on the second floor of the court house annex. The Warren County Civil Defense will be starting a radiological school in the very near future. You may join and be in a position to help others in times of emergencies.

A MONITORING TEAM, composed of Bill Robinson, Henry Fuelhart, George Atkins, and Bill Johnson, demonstrate how an area will be checked for radiation. Bill uses a survey instrument to determine the amount of radiation in roentgens. Henry accumulates the data. George radios in the findings. Bill is the driver of the jeep.

Civil defense authorities know that radioactive materials can be washed away if sufficient water is available.

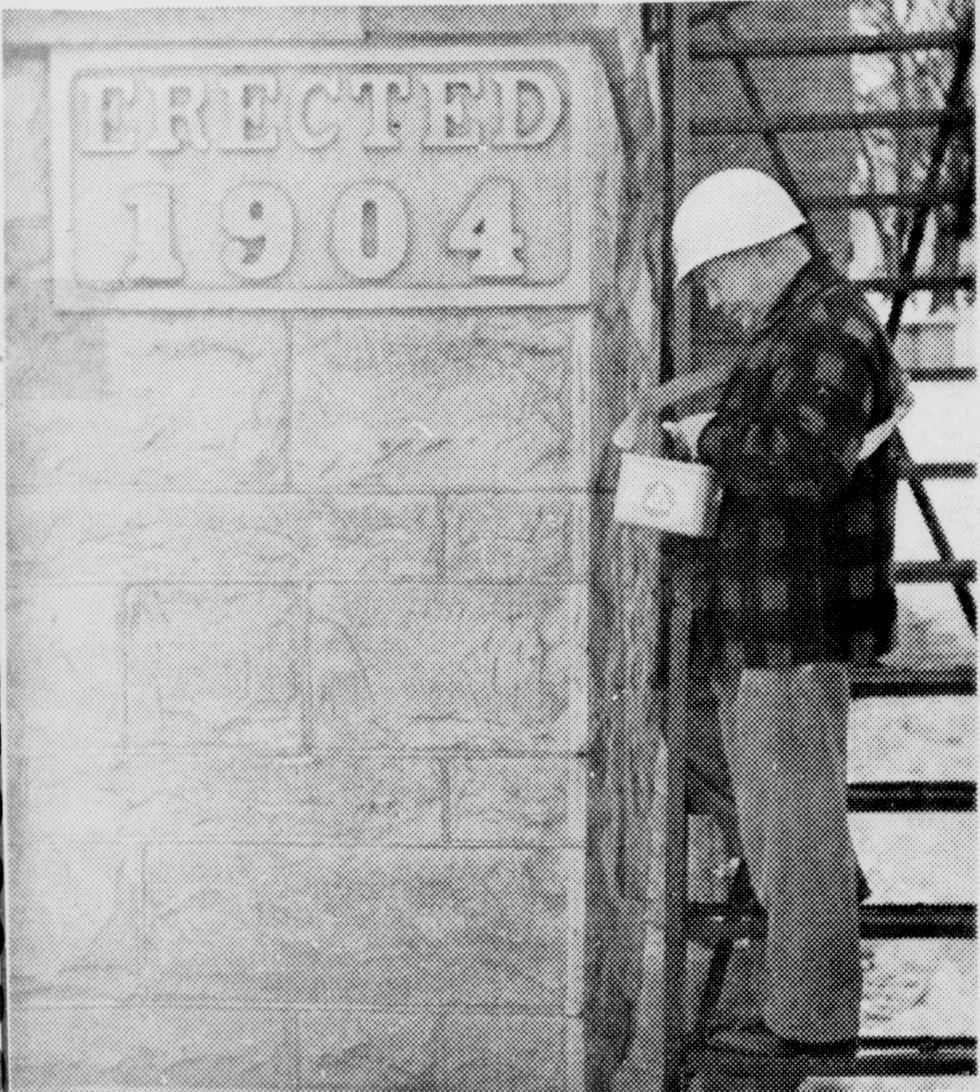

Clothes can be washed, buildings doused, even a quick shower with soap and warm water will help to minimize the destruction of body tissues. Remember, however, that the water will then be radioactive and must be disposed of and burial is the best method.

ADVANCE WARNING of exterior conditions can be received by placing a survey instrument outside before humans expose themselves. Here Bill Robinson checks to see if Tidioute is O.K. before venturing outside.

THE GEIGER COUNTER, most familiar of the new atomic age jargon, is used by Jack Schall to see if Radiological Director James Wright has received too much radiation on his clothing. Clothing will protect the body from fallout and the more of the body covered the better but it should be removed as soon as possible. Even a vacuum cleaner can be used to remove radioactive dust but the complete bag and contents should be buried.

A SURVEY INSTRUMENT is being used here to check the radioactivity near the Tidioute school by Walter McKown. As you can see from the sign, the school was erected long before radioactivity was understood.

Some radiation comes from the sun in the form of cosmic rays but man's ingenuity threatens a lop-sided balance far beyond the capacity of the body to withstand.

THE AREA TO BE SURVEYED is arranged here by Henry Fuelhart (seated) and George Atkins as they prepare to radio to other Warren County units so coordination can be effected. The complete radio hookup among Warren County's volunteer firemen may be a life saver if the hydrogen bomb emergency materializes.

Warren High School wrestlers won their fifth team victory of the season with a 36 to 12 verdict over Redbank last Thursday night.

Five Warren matmen won their bouts by pins. Larry Campbell, 103 lb., and Tom Valone, 112 lb., took first period pins. Mike Long, 95 lb., pinned his opponent in the second period, and Bob Long, 138 lb., and Denny Flatt, 145 lb. gained third period falls.

Decision winners for Warren were Gail Page, 120 lb., Jay Benze, 165 lb., and Ron Bowen, 185 lb.

Parents of the wrestlers will be honored at the last home match of the Dragons tonight when the Erie East wrestling team invades Beaty gym.

Next Monday the grapplers will travel to Corry for their last dual match of the season. The match was originally scheduled for last Monday but was postponed because snow had closed Corry schools.

GRA-Y ACTIVITY

East and Jefferson were victorious in regularly scheduled games during the past week.

East downed Lacy-South, 30 to 12. Guiffre paced East with 10 points and Merenick accounted for Lacy-South's entire point output.

Jefferson clobbered Russell, 59 to 4. Kurz with 13 and Alexander with 12 were top scorers for Jefferson.

In an exhibition contest during Friday night's Warren-Corry basketball game, McClintock bested North Warren, 9 to 4.

YMCA CITY LEAGUE

G. G. Greenes moved into first place in the Y City basketball loop during the week. Greenes dropped Guiffres, 69 to 64, in their first outing. Bob Reese hit 24 for Greenes and Dick Danielson's 21 was high for Guiffres. In their second game of the week, Greenes dumped K. of C., 79 to 70. Bob Reese paced Greenes with 25 and Bob Wolfe with 18 and Ed Lindberg with 17 were tops for K. of C.

The league standings show Greenes, 4 and 1; Guiffres, 3 and 2; Struthers Hose, 3 and 2; and K. of C., 0 and 5.

CHURCH LEAGUE - JUNIORS

First Lutheran #1 and First Lutheran #2 racked up wins in the first two contests of the second half.

Lutheran #2 came from behind to edge Grace Methodist, 37 to 35, with a bucket with only 20 seconds left in the game.

Lutheran #1 took an early lead in their Saturday game with St. Paul's Lutheran and built that lead as the game progressed to record their first win of the second half.

CHURCH LEAGUE - SENIORS

St. Joseph's, Grace Methodist #1, and Grace Methodist #2 finished out the first half schedule with wins. Second half play in the loop will commence tonight.

St. Joseph's used a big final quarter to whip First Baptist, 77 to 64. The winners trailed the Baptists until the final frame when they erupted for 30 points to take the game. Castagnino hit 23 and Pat Hartnett 22 for the winners. Dick Terry paced the Baptists with 23.

Grace Methodist #1 bumped First Methodist, 65 to 40. Jim Ostergard's 28 was tops for the winners and Arnold led First Methodist with 11.

Grace Methodist #2 blasted First Presbyterian, 60 to 21. Bob Haslet led the winners with 15 and Miller hooped 10 for the Presbyterians.

BEATY BASKETBALL

A win and a loss during the week left Beaty in third place in the Chadakoin basketball loop.

The Beaty five whipped Lincoln, 44 to 26, last Friday. Guy Albaugh was top gun for Beaty with 10 points.

On Tuesday first place Jefferson of Jamestown downed Beaty, 35 to 29. Beaty, behind 21 to 14 at halftime, tied the game at 27 to 27 but fell behind Jefferson's pace late in the game. Jerry Wilson paced Beaty with 11 markers.

Jefferson leads the junior high school league with 8 wins and 1 loss. Washington with 6 and 2 is in second place, followed by Beaty with 5 and 3.

DRAGON CAGERS WIN TWO, DOWN CORRY AND BRADFORD

Warren High School cagers bounced back after two consecutive losses last Friday night to roll up their largest point output of the season and whip Corry, 81 to 57. The win put the Blue and White in third place in league play with 4 wins and 3 losses.

Corry's full court press, which proved troublesome for Meadville and Oil City, slowed the Dragon attack very little. The press resulted in many personal fouls being called against the Beavers and Warren tossed in 3 of 44 foul tries.

Jack Karkosky with 24 and Nicky Creola with 20 paced the Warren attack.

Sporting new knee socks, the Dragons turned back Bradford, 55 to 38, Tuesday night. It was the Blue and White's second win of the season over the Owls, a feat no Warren team has accomplished since the 1947-48 season.

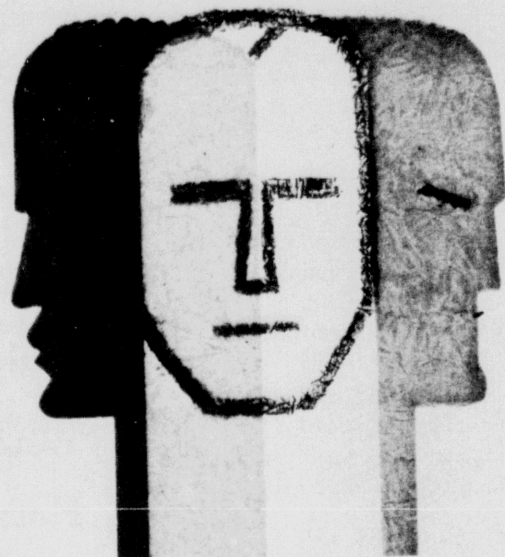

The Dragons took an early lead and were never headed by Bradford. At one point Warren led by 21 points. Jack Karkosky led the Dragons in penetrating Bradford's sliding zone defense with 22 points.

Tomorrow night Warren will meet Oil City on Beaty gym.

BOWLING

MEN'S TOURNAMENT

The eleventh annual tournament of the Warren Bowling Association will be held March 14 through April 27, with March 4 as the entry deadline. The entry fee is $2.20 for each event, of which $1 is prize money. The all events fee is forty cents.

The team event will be rolled at the Arcade and the doubles and singles at Youngsville. The Association is donating $200 to the prize money, $65 for the team event, $60 for the doubles, $45 for the singles, and $30 to the all events.

The tournament was discussed at a very tardy annual meeting, when Deac Lay was elected president, Norm Wooster, secretary and treasurer, and a string of vice presidents and executive directors were named.

The Association has dipped to a low level since it was enthusiastically reorganized a few years ago. It could learn much about tournament and association operation from the very efficient ladies.

OUTDOORS

(Pennsylvania Game Commission)

BEAVER - TRAPPING REGULATIONS

The Pennsylvania season for taking beavers opens at 7 a. m., February 15, closes at noon, March 15. Beavers may be taken by the trapping method only. Non-residents are not allowed to harvest these furbearers in the Commonwealth. A person may set, tend or operate 10 traps only.

Traps must be tagged with metal name tags, which must show above the ice or water line to permit easy inspection without disturbance to the traps. Traps may not be set on the structure of any beaver dam or house, or within 25 feet of the water line or the structure of either. A person may take four beavers in the 1958 season. No trapping may be done on Commission-posted dams.

Seals shall be attached to beaver pelts by game protectors, to whom the skins must be presented within 10 days after the season closes. Beaver skins may not be sold or otherwise disposed of legally until properly sealed, preferably by the game protector in the county in which the animals were trapped. ***

PENNSYLVANIA DUCKS GO PLACES

Nearly 47,000 ducks, almost entirely mallards, have been reared, leg-banded and released in the Commonwealth by the Game Commission since the spring of 1951, when the agency began its waterfowl program.

By January 30 of this year the Commission had received band information on 5,911 or 12.6% of the 46,814 ducks liberated over the seven-year period on marshes, ponds and streams in the Keystone State. The largest number of bands, 5,209, was recovered from ducks shot in Pennsylvania.

Next came New York State with 178. The Province of Ontario was third, with 139. The State of Ohio returned information on 60 of the birds; Maryland on 59; Michigan 55; Virginia 48; New Jersey 37; and Delaware 20. In all, records of the banded fowl came from 27 states and the Canadian provinces of Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Quebec, as well as Ontario.

The duck taken farthest from its point of liberation was reported from Saskatchewan. In the United States the longest westward flight of the Pennsylvania birds was to the two Dakotas. Some of the ducks also traveled as far south as possible in this country, ending in the game bags of hunters in Florida.

The northward direction taken by the waterfowl is puzzling to many persons. The explanation is this: Apparently, as the birds develop wing strength in late summer an urge to see new places causes them to make a maiden voyage in whatever direction fancy chooses. Records prove, however, that many of the liberated fowl that survive gunfire and other perils in the North and South, and during fall and spring flights between summer and winter homes, return to the Pennsylvania locality from which they departed. There they rear new broods of ducklings, eventually to provide better duck hunting in the Commonwealth. One sign that hunters of this state profit from the program is indicated by the fact that information on over 88% of the Commission-released mallards came from ducks bagged in this state alone. ***

DOGS MENACE WILDLIFE

The annual appeal to all dog owners to watchfully restrict the activities of their pets to home, and property may be "old hat" to some persons. But to wildlife the possibility of injury or death by dogs on the loose in winter is a threat not to be shrugged off.

Some wild animals are in hibernation, and game birds may fly to safety in trees when threatened. But deer sometimes find themselves at the mercy of marauding canines.

In northern Pennsylvania counties, where crusted snow has, for weeks, caused frightened deer to become quickly exhausted, the white-tails have been easily caught by their domesticated enemies. Bucks that would have been trophies in the 1958 season and does bearing embryos -- all look the same to dogs intent on the kill.

State law stipulates that dogs shall be kept under control by their owners at all times, and that dogs may be destroyed when in such close pursuit as to endanger the life of any deer, or when found in the act of killing a deer.

A simple answer to the problem lies in dog owners being humane and considerate. By tying, penning or housing their pets, night and day, the owners can avoid possible trouble with the authorities, and they may avoid the possibility of losing a valuable dog that sneaks away to roam the fields and woodlands and menace wild creatures. ***

OPEN LAND TO HUNTING

Last year the Game Commission again provided cost-free safety zone posters to property owners who agreed to allow open hunting on their lands, except for the 150 yard zone around their residence and out-buildings.

The 1957 tally shows 2,149 farms not in Farm-Game Projects, having a total of 144,883 acres, used the safety zone placards and, as agreed in return for the service, did not post their property with trespass signs.

This is a Game Commission program that is growing in popularity with farmers who are so generous as to permit sportsmen to pursue wild game on their lands so long as the rules of safety are observed. The service is widely welcomed also by sportsmen who sometimes find it difficult to locate suitable territory on which to hunt rabbits and ringnecked pheasants.
